CAN YOU GUESS.

Here's a Chance to Make
Ten Dollars Easy.

All You Have to Do is to Pick the Winners in the Coming
Primary.

Just for the interest attached to a guessing contest and to put a little more interest into the coming campaign for County officers, The News will give its readers a chance to make ten dollars and have a little fun at guessing on the side.

To the person making the first nearest correct guess of the winners in the Democratic Primary Election which will be held in this county on Saturday, June 1st, 1901, The News will present a ten dollar gold piece. The conditions of the contest are simple. Old subscribers and new subscribers who pay $2 on their subscriptions will each be entitled to a guess, and to as many guesses as they pay year's subscription. If no one guesses correctly, the first one who guesses the closest to all the winners will receive the ten dollars.

You intend to pay your subscription anyway, and you may as well pay before the first day of June and have a chance of getting your money back, besides gaining the distinction of knowing more about the political situation than your neighbors.

Each guess will be registered when received as to the exact day and minute. No one will be permitted to see how any one else's guesses. In guessing only offices on the ballot are to be considered.

Kentucky Stock Report.

(Reported by Commissioner Nell.)

The correspondents of this department give very full reports this month from all parts of the State and enable the Commissioner to present to the public what he believes to be the true condition of the wheat and clover crops, the true condition and relative number cattle, sheep and hogs, and the prospective acreage of the staple crops for the ensuing year.

The percentages confirm the statement made in the report of this bureau for last December, viz.: "The prospect is not favorable for a full average wheat crop in this State next year." Indeed, the unfavorable winter has tended to increase the discouraging outlook of the fall, as shown by present reports, indicating a condition of 63 as compared with 57 then. The effect of the dry and the want of snow as a covering to protect against the recent sudden cold snaps are both to be taken into account. Just what vitality is left can not be estimated until a few days of warm, growing weather is felt. It may be safely predicted, though, that the crop can be easy where near an average one. Barley and rye are both below an average in condition, while winter-sown oats, with a reduced acreage, show satisfactory condition. The outlook is favorable for the average acreage of tobacco, and most of the plant beds have been sown about the usual time. Some few to be sown yet.

Clover shows almost a desperate condition, and as this condition is getting to be chronic, it is not to be wondered that farmers are turning to some other crop to take its place. The reports place condition, clover 59, stock peas 111.

Live stock have wintered well and are in good condition, ranging in general 97, but cattle, sheep and hogs fall short in numbers compared with last year, the latter falling to 78.

Prospect for fruit is good at present, but, of course, the dangers of spring frosts are to be encountered and it must be expected that there will be more or less damage, even if the buds have escaped winter freezes.

A NEW NAVAL ARCH.

NEW YORK'S DEWEY MEMORIAL TO BE REPRODUCED IN STONE.

It Will Be Placed in Battery Park as a Water Gateway to the Nation and a Memorial to the Gallant Deeds of Our Japs. Tara.

Widespread satisfaction has been the result of the announcement that the famous naval arch in Madison square, New York, is to be perpetuated. But it will not be erected on its original site and will be a memorial to the heroic deeds of the navy as a whole rather than a monument to the hero of Manila Bay.

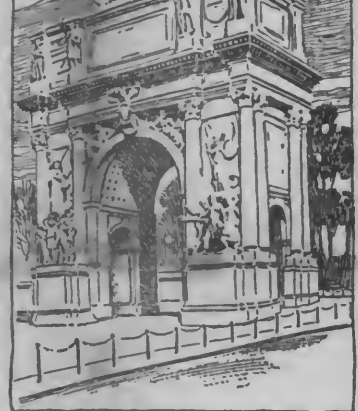

The arch is to be built in Battery park, New York, and it is planned eventually to connect the arch with a landing place at the water's edge by an avenue which shall be flanked by the statues of naval heroes. This will serve as a magnificent water gate to the city and to the entire country.

Of course it must be remembered that such a monument cannot be built in a day, nor even a year. The public is ever a creature of impulse, and unless the men in charge of the affair are full of energy and enthusiasm the work is bound to lag. Even at the best it takes many a month to collect enough funds to warrant the beginning of a notable public memorial, as witness the length of time it took to begin work on the Grant tomb even after its erection was all planned.

In the case assurances have been given by wealthy residents of New York to the naval memorial committee, now in charge of the work of bringing about the construction of the arch, that they will not permit the plan to fail. It is understood that J. Pierpont Morgan is a leader in the movement. Admiral Dewey has given his approval to the change in the character of the structure from a "Dewey" to a "naval" arch. The site has been selected, and Mayor Van Wyck has pledged the earnest co-operation of his city in the furtherance of the project.

In speaking of the arch Mr. Park Benjamin, vice president of the Naval Academy, said:

"We decided to take the arch that the people had approved, but to make it larger. With the municipal arch commission the beginning of the arch, the front sites and decided upon Battery park. The arch commission told us that if the park board approved it also would give its approval. The site we have chosen is in an open space near where the land stand is now located. There it will be reproduced in stone."

NAVAL ARCH FOR BATTERY PARK, NEW YORK. Come a water gate at the place of entrance not only to the city from the sea, but to the whole country, because it will be at its greatest seaport. Thus located, the arch will be suggestive of the guardianship of the navy.

"It will mark the place for the reception by the city authorities of any distinguished visitor landing on our shores. Its site is near enough to the water's edge to permit a special approach to be built hereafter if this is thought desirable. It is so near the existing landing now being constructed at pier 1 that it will be possible to lay out a broad road leading from that landing directly to the arch. If the Ericsson statue should be moved to a point beside that road and in time other statues added, the path would be appropriately accentuated."

Mr. Benjamin thinks the arch will not cost more than $500,000. Mayor Van Wyck thinks it ought to cost $1,000,000 and that the government should make an appropriation for half this amount. In consulting architects and sculptors it has been decided, and very properly, to give the preference to the men who without remuneration devoted their time and labor to the design of the arch in Madison square. The arch will be a counterpart of the Dewey arch, except that a colonnade will not be constructed unless a large amount of money is raised.

According to the naval men who have taken hold of the plan, the money will be raised either by popular subscription from the city of New York, from the state of New York or from the United States government. Mr. Benjamin says: "The money collected for the Dewey arch, $158,000 in cash and $50,000 in pledges as I understand it, must be returned. Our plan is to go ahead regardless of this money. If the subscribers wish to turn it over to us, we shall be glad to have it."

The committee having the work in charge is made up of Admiral Erben, Park Benjamin, Lewis F. Nixon, Thomas E. W. Yaw, Rear Admiral Miller (retired), W. Butler Duncan, Jr., E. J. Berwind, Robert S. Sloane of Oswego and Lieutenant Commander Cheney (retired).

The Man Who Bumps You.

When one woman bumps into another on the street, no remark is made by either, and in two minutes the matter is forgotten. Not so with two men, however. When they fall back from the bump, each one remarks:

"Excuse me, sir."

And then together:

"Ob, certainly!"

And again:

"All my fault."

And once more:

"Very careless of me, to be sure."

And then each one bows and nods and goes on his way, but even after months have elapsed around the matter is not forgotten. Should they happen to see each other on a street car each one flushes up, greets his teeth and says to himself:

"There's that blabbering old waterman who ran into me the other day, and wouldn't I just like to punch his head!"—Chicago News.

POLES MAY RISE AGAIN.

Warsaw Said to Be a Volcano Which May Burst Out Any Time.

The Berliner Correspondenz, which, after a series of articles showing that an uprising in German Poland was inevitable this spring, suddenly became silent, has again renewed its attacks, this time dealing with statistics. In the meantime the police have been making elaborate investigations, particularly in the province of West Prussia, and, although many arrests have been made, many books and papers in the Polish language have been confiscated. The Correspondenz is astonished that the authorities in Russian Poland have not heeded their warnings, for, according to this organ, Warsaw is nurturing a volcano which at any moment may set all central Europe aflame. The local court of Strassburg, in West Prussia, has ordered the confiscation of a photograph of which the following is part of the official description:

"The picture represents Christ sitting under the cross and lovingly consoling a woman dressed in black and laden with chains, who is kneeling before him. The flags lying beside the figure of Christ contain the dates of the three partitions of Poland, 1772, 1793 and 1795. The dates 1794, 1830, 1848 and 1863, which are inscribed in large figures edged with white on the border of the woman's skirt, refer to the four great Polish rebellions. The date May 3, 1791, is that of a promulgation of the Polish constitution, etc. The legend, in Polish, 'The moment of redemption is not yet come,' also appears in the picture."

According to the most recent anti-Polish article in the Correspondenz, Poles have not only increased in number in the eastern provinces of Prussia, which once formed part of the Polish kingdom, but have established large Polish colonies in Silesia and in the west of Prussia. It declares that between 1850 and 1898 the Polish speaking population of Westphalia increased from 27,000 to 150,000, that of the Rhine provinces from 6,000 to 22,000 and that of Silesia from 904,000 to 1,023,000. The census of 1890 gave 3,000,000 as the number of Prussian subjects who spoke Polish as their native language, while the recent census will probably show a great increase over this number. On the other hand, the paper points out that the German colonies in the Polish districts have gradually declined in strength and energy and that in many towns the administration of affairs is entirely in the hands of the Poles, who are thus able to devote the local funds to defraying the expense of teaching the Polish language in schools, which, designated as "private," are in reality supported by the community. The paper places the number of Polish Nationalists at over 100,000, while the Nationalist societies have increased in the last few years from 300 to 904.

THE INAUGURATION OATH.

Verses of the Bible Kissed by Distinguished Presidents.

"It has been customary at inaugurations," says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, "for the president or some friend to select the chapter at which he shall press his lips, passages that are particularly appropriate being chosen. That selected by Mr. McKinley to kiss when he took the inaugural oath in 1897 was unusually appropriate. It read:

"Give me new wisdom and knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this people, for who can judge this, thy people, that is so great?"

"President McKinley not only selected this passage from the holy Scriptures because of its remarkable appropriateness, but in his inaugural address twice, at the beginning and the end, acknowledged divine sovereignty and invoked the guidance of Omnipotent power."

"The verse that General Grant kissed was equally appropriate and is found in the eleventh chapter of Isaiah, as follows:

"And the spirit of 's Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord. And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord, and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes nor approve after the hearing of his ears."

"The verse that President Hayes kissed was accidental and proved to be prophetic:

"His enemies encompassed him like bees, but he would not destroy them." "President Arthur and President Cleveland did not make any selection, and the passages they kissed are unknown. Mr. Cleveland took the oath at both inaugurations upon a little red Bible which was given him by his mother when he was a boy."

Female Legislative Clerks.

The introduction in the Montana house of a resolution for the appointment of two more women as clerks gave rise to an interesting discussion the other day. One member asserted that there were already 25 women clerks, who did little but sit around the committee rooms all day, reading novels or doing fancy work and drawing $5 a day. Another member told of a struggle he had to persuade one out of a bevy of 15 of these clerks to do a little work for him on a typewriter.

REMEMBER PLACE AND DATE.—Busy and skillful hands are now employed in fashioning the dainty creations that will be displayed at Mrs. Corne Watson's millinery display on April 3 and 4. Miss Margaret Fallon, the expert trimmer, has arrived from Chicago, and is in charge of the trimming department.

Mrs. Watson, as usual, employs the best talent she can secure, and as a result has the confidence of her customers.

Remember the date of the Spring display—April 3 and 4. Also remember Mrs. Watson is now located in the Nipert block.

A well-founded Southern comedy-drama based upon love, honor, political intrigue and personal ambition is the new play, "Private John Allen" to be given Tuesday night at the Grand.

Bids for the purchase of the house will be sent to Mr. Warren Rogers within the next thirty days, and that bid which is best for the taxpayers will be accepted.

An Impending Spectacle.

Probably the most imposing spectacle ever witnessed by Kentuckians will take place at Centerville in a few days, the occasion being the transferring of the postoffice from the present incumbent, Miss Mattie Boyd, a cripple but, alas, a Democrat, to J. C. Montgomery, a Republican. A prominent local official, who engineered the job in Washington, will act as master of ceremonies, and a photographer will make a series of photographs of the proceedings, so they can be handed down to posterity. A grand barbecue will be spread in the adjacent woods, and everybody, especially those who believe in that kind of dirty work, are invited to attend and have a good time.

Of Interest To The Ladies.

Manager Stivers, of the Bourbon Bowling Alleys, has had some elegant invitations issued from The News Rooms, in which the ladies of Paris are invited to visit the bowling alleys every Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 o'clock. During these hours the alleys are placed at their disposal free. This liberal offer on the part of Mr. Stivers has been taken advantage of quite freely of recent Fridays by the ladies, and some rare sport is being had.

The Smartest Baby.

Two uptown married ladies were comparing the smartest tricks of their offspring the other day. One said her little girl talked when she was a year old; another said that her baby boy could say "papa and mamma," when he was ten months old. An old bachelor, who was in the next room trying to read, then "chipped in" and said that he had read in the Bible that Job nursed the day he was born. That settled it, and the ladies adjourned.

Announcement.

I have the honor to announce the appearance of America's eminent actor, Mr. Charles B. Hanford, at the Grand Tuesday, March 19th, in a new comedy-drama, "Private John Allen." Mr. Hanford will be assisted by Miss Marie Drofna, an admirable company. The play will be mounted with new and special scenery, appropriate to the atmosphere of the story, and I have no hesitancy in saying that the engagement of this superior attraction will prove here, as elsewhere, the most interesting and enjoyable of the season. Owing to the unusual interest the coming of an attraction of such excellence will excite, an early selection of seats is advisable. Very truly,
R. S. PORTER, Mgr. Grand.

SITE IS SELECTED.

Building Committee Select Site For New Christian Church.

The committee, consisting of Messrs. J. W. Davis, J. T. Hinton and J. W. McClintock, who were appointed to purchase a site upon which to erect a new place of worship for the members of the Christian Church in this city, yesterday closed a deal for the purchase of the J. M. Hughes property on High street, for $7,000. As soon as plans are selected work will begin on the new edifice, which will be within thirty days, and when completed it will be one of the handsomest and best appointed church buildings in the State.

The old church property will probably be sold in the near future. It is one of the oldest buildings of this denomination in the State, being erected in 1838. Some of the most brilliant men of their times have occupied its pews, and its passing away will be looked upon by the older residents as a loss of an old friend. Elder John S. Sweeney, postmaster at Paris, was pastor for thirty-six years, and before him were Elders Walk, Shackelford, Raines, Gonoe and others.

Wm. Augustus Marks, who pleaded guilty to house-breaking, was on recommendation of the Grand Jury, sentenced to the House of Reform until he is twenty-one years old. He is now sixteen.

He Wanted to See the Sights.

Officer James Mernagh received notification Wednesday morning last to look out for a runaway boy by the name of Orie Leath, who it was thought was heading this way, and would arrive on the 3:30 train from Richmond, where his father resides. Mr. Mernagh first thought he would take a baby buggy to the train and wheel the youngster down town in it, but he finally decided to carry the youngster down in his arms. When the train arrived the runaway was found to be a strapping big lad of about eighteen, and seeming in every way to be well able to take care of himself. He was placed under arrest, but was not locked up. Mr. Mernagh showed him the sights of the city, took him home to dinner with him, and turned him over to his papa, who arrived on the next train from Richmond.

The first 6 acres of hemp that was broken this year on R. G. Evans' farm, weighed out 2,000 lbs. to the acre, which is considered a phenomenal growth. The most of it measured from 11 to 13 feet.—Danville News.

A Chicago capitalist is making a curious deal with Kansas farmers. He buys heifer calves, which he puts out among the farmers on the shares, the agreement being that at the end of six years the farmer shall return to him for each heifer so taken one 2-year-old steer and $1 cash. It is calculated that in six years there will be an average of half a dozen animals to represent each original calf.

The average price of hogs last week, says Chicago Drovers' Journal, was 5c. higher than the previous week, 55c. higher than the last week of last December and 8c. higher than the closing week of last October, being the highest week since last April, and within 15c of the top week of last year, and in fact, the top week in over six years past.

The very good shipping demand is helping the hog market wonderfully. Last week the Eastern dealers purchased 36,494 in Chicago, being the largest week's shipment in over a year.

Tuesday, Douglas Thomas sold to Sanford Talbot, a nice gelding for $275.

Mrs. James Mansfield's farm of 60 acres, on Cave Ridge, has been purchased by Bruce Letton, of Millersburg, for $85 an acre. Mr. Letton sold his farm near Millersburg, of 100 acres, to Connell Bros., for $6,500 cash.

J. Hal Woodford, of near Paris, sold Tuesday, to Geo. Harding & Son, of Waukegan, Wis., seven 3-year-old fine ewes at $20 each; to Wilson Bros., Muncie, Ind., six aged ewes at $30 each, also to same 8 yearling rams; to M. H. McNeill, Laurel, one 4-year-old ram at $30.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Polly Cloud Graves died at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James M. Graves, in Lexington Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Her death was due to the inflection of old age, she having passed her 104th birthday on February 19.

Mrs. Graves was as a girl Miss Polly Cloud Graves, but no relation to her husband, William W. Graves, who died March 1871, eighty three years of age. She was born in Fayette county, seven miles from Lexington, on Cave Run Creek. Her father was Major John Graves, of Virginia, he having served during the revolution on LaFayette's staff. Her mother, whose mother also lived to the age of 104 years, was a Miss Margaret Cloud, of Virginia. Her mother had two sisters, one of whom was the great-grandmother of Hon. P. Wat Har-din. The other married an uncle of Leslie Combs.

Mrs. Dr. G. W. Adair, formerly of this city, died at her home in Covington suddenly Wednesday at noon, after a ten days' illness of grip. The body will be taken to Carlisle this afternoon, where the funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Adair was formerly Miss Mary Henry, of Carlisle. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Roberts, of Covington, and Mrs. W. J. Browner, of New York City.

Dr. S. F. Gano, a venerable citizen of Georgetown, died in that city Tuesday last, in the 94th year of his age.

Pat McDonald, lawyer, editor and politician, died in Frankfort yesterday morning. He was about 56 years old and suffered for the last year with Bright's disease. He was one of the best known figures in Democratic State conventions and at sessions of the Legislature, where he wielded wide influence. For many years he was connected with the State printing establishment and also identified with a large number of corporations. He was an intimate friend of Wm. Campbell, and was severely shocked when the latter was assassinated. He became ill the day following the tragedy and never saw a well day since.

Matrimonial.

Mr. N. A. Moore, of this county, and Miss Nannie Entry, of Olympia Springs, Bath County, were married Tuesday, the 12th inst., at 1:40 p. m., in the parlors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clay in Mt. Sterling. Mr. Clall Ewing, of Owingsville, and Miss Bessie Shackelford, of Mt. Sterling, acted as attendants. They arrived in Paris on the 3:30 train and were entertained at supper by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Stuart at their elegant home on Mt. Airy. The friends in attendance were Messrs. E. F. Clay, Jr., Buckner Clay, Ed Owens, Stumps Moore, Spears Moore and Miss Nannie Jamason. The ceremony was performed by Eld J. S. Sweeney, of this city. After supper they drove out to their beautiful home (Don's Retreat) where they will for the present reside. Mr. Moore is a Government Storekeeper, and son of the late Dr. N. S. Moore, who was one of the most prominent citizens of Bourbon County. The bride is a daughter of Mr. C. T. Embury, of Bath County, and is a most charming young lady.

At Louisville, yesterday afternoon Mr. Robert Howe Miller, of Millersburg, was united in matrimony to Miss George Winkley, of Bethel. The groom is a son of Mrs. Lizzie Miller, of Millersburg, and the bride is a niece of Mrs. A. T. Forsyth, of this city.

Card From Dr. H. H. Roberts.

Editor BOURBON NEWS: Since arriving in Berlin I find that my stay from home will be longer than I had expected and will be unable to return to Paris in time to take part in the coming Primary, and probably not until the election is over. In such circumstances it is of course impossible for me to make a political race and for that reason, I reluctantly withdraw my name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor.

I am deeply grateful to the many friends who were kind enough to proffer me their support, and beg through you to extend my thanks to them.

Very Respectfully,
H. H. ROBERTS.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON

Died, Claspng His Wife's Hand, But Unconscious, He Quietly Passed Away.

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison died at his residence in Indianapolis on Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. His death was quiet and painless, there being a gradual sinking until the end came, which was marked by a single gasp, for breath as life departed from the body of the great statesman. Relatives with a few exceptions, and several of his old and tried friends were at the bedside when he passed away.

None of General Harrison's children were present at his death. Neither Colonel Russell Harrison nor Mrs. McKee had reached the city, although both were hurrying on the way to the bedside of their dying parent.

Elizabeth, the little daughter, had been taken from the sickroom before the end came.

The funeral of the ex-President will take place next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held in the First Presbyterian Church, of which General Harrison was a member for nearly fifty years. Rev. M. L. Haines, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will have charge of the services.

It was decided at a meeting of Governor Durbin and other state officials, that the body of General Harrison should lie in state all day to-morrow in the rotunda of the capitol.

The highest honors in the power of the State of Indiana will be shown to the remains of General Harrison. The following gentlemen, members of his cabinet, will probably act as honorary pall-bearers: Secretary of the Treasury Charles W. Foster, Postoria, Ohio; Secretary of War Stephen D. Owen, West Virginia; Secretary of the Navy Benjamin F. Tracy, New York; Secretary of the Interior John W. Noble, St. Louis; Postmaster General John W. Wamaker, Philadelphia, and Commissioner of Agriculture Jeremiah Rusk, Milwaukee.

General Harrison's wealth is variously estimated, public opinion rating it as high as a million dollars. Those who are best informed about the ex-President's affairs say he is worth about $250,000 or $300,000 at the time he was elected President. He was reputed to have accumulated a fortune of $125,000 from his law practice, and this has been doubled at least since that time. His fee in the Venezuelan boundary dispute, in which he represented the South American republic, was $100,000.

President McKinley will attend the funeral of General Harrison. He will leave Washington to-night accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and Secretary Cortelyou. The party will stop at Union and Mrs. McKinley remain in the city.

Former President Cleveland made the following statement on the death of former President Harrison:

"I am exceedingly moved by the sad intelligence of Mr. Harrison's death. Not one of our countrymen should for a moment fail to realize the services which have been performed in their behalf by the distinguished dead. In high public office he was guided by patriotism and devotion to duty, and in private life his influence and example were always in the direction of liberty and good citizenship. Such a career and the incidents to it should have a deep and useful impression upon every section of our National life."

An Important Meeting.
A religious gathering of much interest will be held in the Christian Church in Lexington March 26th, 27th and 28th. It is the Congress of Christian Disciples and is a national organization. Between one hundred and two hundred visitors, chiefly preachers and teachers who are deeply interested in the work, will be in attendance.

New Millinery Store.
In Mrs. Paton's store room, opposite the Fordham Hotel, L. B. Conway & Co., will open a thoroughly up-to-date millinery establishment on the 20th inst. The store room is being entirely refitted, a new front will be put in, and when completed it will be one of the prettiest places of business in the city. The new firm will have a select stock, second to none in the State. It will include a large stock of pattern hats of the latest New York and Paris styles. Miss Marie Rogers, of Louisville, has been engaged as trimmer. Miss Rogers has, for a number of years, been trimming for some of the leading and most fashionable houses of Louisville and Cincinnati, and the ladies can look forward to some elegant designs in headgear during the coming season.

Are You Rubber Tired?
If not, why not? There are a thousand reasons why you should have your vehicles rubber tired. We will not attempt to enumerate them, but will say we have the latest, up-to-date patent for putting on Hartford and Goodyear 2-wire Rubber Tires while you wait. Suppose you investigate?
